

President May Take Hand in Stalled Oil Strike

Denver, May 8 (AP) — Refusal of 22 AFL, CO and independent oil industry unions to call an end to their week-old strike may send the wage dispute to President Truman.

The Wage Stabilization Board scheduled a meeting today in Washington. Yesterday WSB Chairman Nathan P. Feinsinger told the House Labor Committee the case probably would be sent to the White House if the board fails to obtain an end to the strike.

Feinsinger had asked the unions to send their men back to work. O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers' International Union CIO said here last night the strike will continue. He added the unions will have representatives at WSB meeting May 13 as requested.

"In light of the history of the dispute and of the WSB's apparent inability to affect industry participation in WSB hearings, we have no alternative but to continue our strike," Knight said.

"We have patiently attempted to achieve peaceful settlements, but to no avail. We have co-operated with the board, but to no avail. We were finally forced to strike and we must continue striking until settlements are reached."

Knight pointed out that the dispute dates back to September, 1951, and was postponed three times before refinery and pipeline workers went out.

The WSB had returned the dispute to the unions and management April 16 for more collective bargaining after inability to get hearings under way. It retained temporary jurisdiction, however.

A pattern for settlement may be drawn from an agreement reached late yesterday between CIO workers and the Rock Island Refinery near Indianapolis. They settled for an 18-cent hourly increase. Pickets were to be removed today.

The unions are asking a wage increase of 25 cents hourly and hikes in night shift differentials. Knight said that any company offer of 18-22 cents hourly probably would be accepted.

The average wage ranges from $2 to $2.10 an hour and night differentials are 4 cents from 4 p. m. to midnight and 3 cents from midnight to 8 a. m. The unions want these boosted to 4 and 12 cents respectively.

Knight said negotiations seem less favorable today than yesterday. There still is some hope, however, a settlement will grow out of the May 13 meeting.

What was described as the best offer by any company failed to produce settlement in San Francisco. Negotiations there broke down yesterday between CIO and

Credit Ban Lifted, Buying Spree Likely

By United Press
Signs proclaiming "no down payment and easy terms" cropped up across the nation today and shoppers in many locations rushed to take advantage of the end of installment buying controls.

The suspension of credit curbs on automobiles, television sets, furniture and other durable consumer goods like refrigerators and stoves was almost universally welcomed by businessmen as a boom to merchants.

Shoppers and retailers alike were quick to take advantage of it. Almost immediately after the federal reserve board's decision to lift "regulation W," buyers in Atlanta, Ga., appeared at car lots.

Many offered $100 down payments on late model cars.

An Atlanta Ford dealer said he signed more orders in the first few hours after the restriction was taken off than he could fill in the "freesaleable future."

The Bank of America in San Francisco announced a new policy of no down payment on appliances and up to 24 months to pay the balance. The bank set a requirement of 30 per cent down and up to 30 months to pay on autos.

The first "no down payment" signs appeared on Los Angeles' automobile row within minutes after the curbs were suspended.

In Chicago, the owner of one of the city's largest used car lots geared for an expected 20 per cent increase in business "as soon as people have time to study the news and realize what it means."

U. S. in Biggest Air Raid of War on Supply Base

Seoul, Korea, May 8 (AP) — The U. S. Fifth Air Force said it made its biggest single attack of the Korean War today on the Red supply area at Sunan.

A day-long attack left the prize target covered with "billowing flames and smoke," the Air Force said.

The assault on the town, 35 miles southeast of the Red capital, Pyongyang, began at dawn and lasted until nightfall. Both jets and propeller driven planes were hurled into the attack.

Two Red jets were reported shot down and a third damaged as they ventured far from their Manchurian bases apparently in an effort to break up the raid.

The Fifth Air Force said more sorties were flown against Sunan today than the 312 that hit Sinuiju on the Manchurian border a year ago this month in the war's previous biggest single raid.

The Air Force reported Allied planes destroyed 97 supply buildings in the great supply complex, damaged 50 and knocked out 18 supply railroads and 18 vehicles.

Photo planes have been keeping an eye on the Red buildup at Sunan, a feeder point to Chinese troops on the Western front Spokesmen said photos showed truck convoys, great stacks of supplies and other equipment, well guarded by anti-aircraft guns.

Shooting stars opened the attack at 5:35 a. m., hitting attack placements with demolition bombs.

Admiral Is Concerned Over Red Subs

Taipei, Formosa, May 8 (AP) — American Pacific Fleet commander indicated today his main concern is the Korean War spreads, would be what Russia would do with her big Pacific fleet of submarines.

"It would be a threat if used offensively," Adm. Arthur W. Radford told a press conference.

In the event of such a general emergency, Radford envisaged close co-operation with British and French forces in the Pacific. He has conferred with Far East military commanders of both on a tour of the Philippines and Formosa.

The area recently was transferred to his protective jurisdiction from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's Far East command.

Radford said protection of Formosa from a Chinese Communist invasion of a blockade of the Red China Coast would be no problem for the Pacific Fleet. He predicted Formosa soon would be impregnable.

If ordered to, the Pacific Fleet commander said, his forces could blockade the China Coast with "significant, long range effects."

"Speaking hypothetically, it is my opinion that a blockade of Red China) would only be ordered in an effort to halt further Communist aggression — and then only as a part of the total action taken to halt it."

Democrats in Illinois Vote Today

Springfield, Ill., May 8 (AP) — Illinois Democrats may vote today on a proposal endorsing Gov. Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Indications were that the draft Stevenson movement may come up for official approval at the party's state convention although the governor has vetoed such plans.

However, Jacob M. Arvey, Democratic national committeeman for Illinois, appeared not to have given up on getting the convention to endorse Stevenson, a candidate for reelection as governor.

Stevenson, who is in Camp Cooke, Calif., said he has talked to Arvey for more than 30 minutes by telephone last night and told him he "hoped the convention would not put me in an awkward spot by proposing me for the presidency," Stevenson said.

Stevenson is in Camp Cooke visiting troops of the 44th Illinois Infantry Division.

Some party leaders, in view of Stevenson's attitude, have indicated no presidential pledges will be made at today's state convention.

Today's meeting will name 20 delegates at large to the national convention, each with a half vote. Fifty delegates were elected in the April 8 primary with a full vote apiece.

Senate Approves Mine Safety Bill

Washington, May 8 (AP) — A federal mine safety bill with all the sharp teeth John L. Lewis has been asking for years has received the Senate's approval.

The bill, passed yesterday on a voice vote, now goes to the House, where a somewhat similar measure is already awaiting action.

The bill, steered through the Senate by Sen. Neely (D-W. Va.), gives the federal government power to enforce safety recommendations of the Bureau of Mines' inspectors.

These inspectors now may merely advise. The new law makes them enforceable. It is entirely new legislation. Senate will

Red Prisoners Holding Camp Commander as Hostage at Koje

Chinese Left Little Choice of Accepting UN Armistice Offer or Continue Fighting

Washington, May 8 (AP) — President Truman left the Asiatic Communist today with the choice of accepting what is apparently the final Allied armistice offer or continuing a war that has gained them little.

While the Communists mulled over the President's declaration yesterday that the United Nations three-point truce proposal must be accepted in entirety, military and diplomatic officials considered what to do if it isn't.

If the Chinese and Korean Reds turned down the one-package proposal, including the point that there be no forced return of prisoners, the prospects for continued war seemed uppermost.

The shape this war could take — more prolonged stalemate on the existing battlefield, a blockade of Red China's ports, attacks on the China Coast — figured in several alternatives considered by the United States and its Allies.

A diplomatic effort outside Korea to settle the dispute remained at least a possibility. Deputy Defense Secretary William C. Foster was asked by reporters yesterday if direct negotiations with Russia had been considered. Foster replied that "every alternative has been considered," including that one.

The single package proposal submitted by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's negotiators at Panmunjom and supported by the U. N. Allies contains these three points:

1. A complete cessation of hostilities.

2. The return of all prisoners of war.

3. The withdrawal of all foreign troops from North Korea.

North Korea's Communist leaders have failed to shake the Allied delegates from their no retreat stand against forced return of prisoners to Red rule.

The Allies have told the Reds that 42,000 captured Red soldiers do not want to be repatriated.

"You so-called screening of our captured personnel is absurd," Nam declared in the 18-minute session at Panmunjom.

Nam spoke for 17 minutes. Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U. N. Command delegate, called Nam's speech a "propaganda tirade that can serve no useful purpose."

At Nam's request, truce delegates will meet again tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Thursday, EST).

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and Gen. Mark W. Clark, who will replace Ridgway as supreme Allied commander, arrived in Korea.

The visit followed by only one day Ridgway's warning that the Allies will make no further concessions to the Reds to end the war.

In Washington President Truman said the United States will not buy an armistice "by turning over human beings for slaughter or slavery."

Ridgway will leave Monday to relieve Gen. Eisenhower as commander of NATO forces in Europe.

For the second straight day, Joy proposed an indefinite suspension of negotiations until the Communists are ready to talk business.

But the Reds quickly called for a Friday meeting.

The U. N. Command is willing to return 70,000 of the 169,000 prisoners of war and civilians it holds. That many want to return to Communist territory, the Allies say.

The Reds demand return of 132,000 captured Chinese and North Korean troops.

Nam again "categorically rejected" the Allied proposal. He turned down a suggestion that the Reds, after an armistice, themselves interview the prisoners who have said they would forcibly resist return to communism.

"Your suggestion for an on-the-spot investigation of the screening after the armistice is doubly absurd," Nam said.

Many Killed, Wounded in Previous Riots

Pusan, Korea, Friday, March 8 — (UPI) — Communist prisoners have seized Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, commander of the riotous prisoner camp on Koje Island, and are holding him as hostage, the army announced today.

Dodd and another officer were seized by Communist prisoners at the rate of one of the camps yesterday.

"A demand for his immediate release unharmed has been ignored by the Communists," the Army said.

The officer seized with Dodd managed to escape later. His name was not given.

The Army reported that the Communist prisoners had sent out a note in Dodd's handwriting "indicating he is unharmed."

"The Eighth Army said efforts are being made to effect the release of Gen. Dodd," Army headquarters here said.

Dodd and the accompanying officer were seized "without warning" and forced within an enclosure by the prisoners, the army said. The accompanying officer managed to escape but Dodd was "overpowered" and is still being held.

A spokesman said no other details were available here.

Dodd was born Oct. 5, 1900, at Angola, Ind. He was graduated from West Point in 1923 and now lists Tallahassee, Fla., as his permanent residence.

Dodd told a United Press correspondent less than two months ago, after the latest riot, that "the situation here is getting very explosive."

He said then there was increasing friction between Communist and non-Communist inside the camps.

But he said the policy of the camp was "not to attempt to stop them from making demonstrations."

The first riot was on Feb. 1 and left 70 civilian internees and one American dead and 140 Koreans wounded. Twelve North Korean prisoners were killed and wounded in the second outbreak of violence on March 13.

President Plans Long Vacation

Washington, May 8 (AP)—President Truman said today that after leaving the White House next January, he plans to spend 10 years having a good time and doing just as he damn pleases.

He discussed his future with representatives at a news conference which included with his 68th birthday the seventh anniversary of the signing of the World War II armistice. Truman said he would like to visit to some parts of the world, but he will go no more and do nothing that might embarrass the next president. That is in reply to a question as to when he leaves office and perhaps Generalissimo Stalin.

representatives and the Tide Water Associated Oil Company.

It was reported the management offered about 15 cents an hour plus differential increases there.

"We hope we don't have to pull out in California," Knight stated, "but we intend to intensify the strike."

The California strike decision will come the latter part of this week, perhaps in the next 48 hours, Verlin McKendree, union international representative on the Tide Water negotiations, said in San Francisco.

"It depends on what crystallizes in the next two or three days," he said. "Of course, I can't tell about the whole state, but that's true for parts of Northern California."

Meanwhile, effects of the strike were increasing. There has been a 30 per cent slash in high octane gasoline available for commercial airlines and private planes. The Air Force has reduced training flight hours.

Pilling station supplies are dwindling in some scattered localities, particularly around Chicago and Detroit.

Truman said also:

—He has no present intention of announcing his choice among the various candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination. But he reserves the right to do so when and if he chooses — and he said the 1948 election shows he's a good judge on political matters.

Military Pay Taken Up by Congress

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Some lawmakers expect an agreement to day in a long Senate-House dead lock over a pay increase for persons in the armed services.

Labor Maintains British Victories

London, May 8 (AP)—The Labor party is maintaining its heavy winning margin in a nation-wide town and council elections now in their fourth day. Balloting will last through Saturday.

Results of the voting for local council members will not affect the Conservative party's control of the House of Commons, but the swing toward Labor has resulted in increased Laborite agitation for new general elections.

The Laborites last night claimed to have picked up 200 more council seats than they had held in England, Wales and Scotland.

Their creative headquarters conceded them a net gain of 148.

DOROTHY DIX

Oversensitive Mother

Dear Miss Dix: The situation I am about to outline has me completely distraught. I am a business woman in my middle forties and can truthfully say I don't look like a comfortable home and a fine husband. The difficulty is my mother, who lives with us.

Her tender little feelings are always out everywhere. She assumes the right to read my mail, go through my belongings, greet our guests and bid them goodnight — no matter what the hour. If a woman friend drops in to see me, mother is right on hand to drink in every word of the conversation. We have assured her that the last thing we want is to make a prisoner of her in her own room, but a little privacy now and then would be very desirable for us.
She insists that she, and she alone, must be responsible for our housekeeping. Since ours is a large house, obviously she cannot care for it adequately, hence it is usually not very clean or tidy. If I suggest a cleaning woman, we have red eyes and sighs for days on end. If I try to houseclean, the same routine ensues. So to avoid discussion, I let things go.

If I suggest that I put my foot down, I have tried it, with the result that I felt like a heel watching mamma go around teary-eyed. When my husband is at home she is not so bad, as he has good nerves and can jolly her along. When I am alone with her, as I frequently am since my husband is a traveling man, every move I make brings on a "bitterly hurt" attack. What can I do?

Answer: A hypersensitive person is a most difficult type to deal with, chiefly because we seldom admit the real cause for the trouble. These people are excellent actors, who have thoroughly learned the value of a tear. They are, in addition, selfish, determined people who will brook no interference in their own self-directed sphere of action. Invariably, however, their victims accept their tender feelings at face value and will do anything to avoid a scene that is bound to end with tears, sulks and recriminations. The success of their tactics is almost always as thorough as those of your mother. A household unfortunate to include, as one of its members, an easily wounded woman, automatically revolves around her and seldom does a courageous rebel emerge with sufficient ammunition to quell the attack.

Drastring Measures Needed
Nothing — but nothing — except the most drastic measures can free a family from the leechlike hold of a pseudo-sensitive soul. Your very fine letter, which I have somewhat condensed, conveys quite clearly the desperation of your own domestic problem. It will never be alleviated by simple measures. You'll have to be harsh to bring your mother back to normalcy. Why a woman with the fine home and family she has can't be satisfied to accept her good fortune without demanding the full reins of authority, is a puzzle — and unfortunately, not an uncommon one.

My advice I know, is much easier to give than to follow, but for the sake of your own health and peace of mind, your authority in the household must be asserted. If mamma accepts it with tears, let her cry it out. She will get over it, I assure you. The very best course for you would be to set her up in her own household, a procedure which, though expensive is well worth the money, and in your case probably feasible. Since you have a good job, and your husband presumably has no great financial difficulty would be encountered, if that idea is too drastic, keep your mother with you, but remember that the tears are spurious, the demand for attention real. Insist on privacy when you have guests, and insist on your right, as manager of the house, to have it kept as you want it.

Had you given me your name and address, I would have written you personally — perhaps my reply would have been good for mother's prying eyes.

Dear Miss Dix: Last summer I met a fine young man with whom I am now going steady. He is devoted, considerate and possesses many fine qualities. However, I have become aware of one habit I find irksome and irritating. For no apparent reason, and with no justification, he frequently injects little white lies into our conversation. They are of no importance, but have aroused a feeling of distrust in me. I don't know whether to ignore it, or casually intimate that I know he is fibbing.

Answer: Many people who have never felt of any importance to anyone adopt this fibbing program to raise themselves in their own estimation, and they assume, in that of others, it's a childish form of exhibitionism and, of course, the best way to cure it is to remove

Winds Bring Damage Near Memphis

West Memphis, May 8 (AP) — Six houses were destroyed and 25 others were damaged when a wind storm whipped through this Mississippi River town late yesterday.
Fire Chief Whit Murphy said there were no injuries. He said the storm hit during a heavy rainfall, and that damage was confined to the rough section of town.
About half of the roof of a new, 240,000 Negro school was ripped away, Murphy said.
A Negro woman and five children were in one of the demolished houses, but Murphy said all of them escaped without injury.
A tree was blown down across Highway 61 near Osceola, blocking traffic for about a half hour. No other damage was reported.

Pan-Am, Union May Reach Accord

El Dorado, May 8 (AP) — Pan-Am Southern Corporation said yesterday that it would resume operations at its strike-bound El Dorado refinery if arrangements could be worked out with the striking CIO Oil Workers International Union.

In reply to a Wage Stabilization Board plan that the strike be settled, Pan-Am said in a telegram to the federal agency that it would start operations "if we can have complete assurance of an adequate operating period to justify the cost of starting up."
No further talks have been scheduled between the union and Pan-Am here. Negotiations were broken off last Saturday.
The union also is striking Lion Oil Company's big chemical plant. Picketing at both installations has been orderly.

The feeling of inferiority from the fiber. By letting your friend know that he is important to you as he is, he may lose the impulse to lie in order to hold your attention. Casual reference to the fact that you know he is stretching the truth will be helpful. If the habit annoys you too much, better postpone the wedding until you think you have it licked.

Opinion Is a Guest of Truce Talks

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 8 (AP) — The invisible guest at the Korean truce talks ever since they began last July has been that intangible thing called world opinion.

Both sides were fully conscious of it, appealed to it, and were careful about it through more than 320 meetings, filled with bickering, crises and hair-splitting.

They had to be careful about it because of their own peculiar position. They were involved not only in a shooting war but in an ideological one too.

Each represented itself to people everywhere as the guardian and advance agent of the good life for all people while condemning the other as the enemy of it.

So long as the talks continued the best of the world could hope there might be a resumption of that war which might lead to world war.

Because the world had a stake in the outcome, each side knew what the opinion of the invisible guest would be toward the side which broke off the talks and let the war begin for any trivial reason.

Only a few weeks ago there was hope here that the talks would soon reach a successful conclusion with a cease-fire. But suddenly the Communists met a terrible setback in world opinion.

It was on the matter of prisoners. The Communists have about 12,000 U. N. prisoners, about 7,000 of them South Koreans. The U. N. has 173,000 prisoners: 100,000 North Koreans, 20,000 Chinese and 53,000 South Koreans who were civilians or who had fought for the Communists.

Before there could be a cease-fire agreement, the Communists wanted an exchange of prisoners. They'd hand over their 12,000 for the 173,000 held by the U. N.

But the U. N. said suppose some of the 173,000 don't want to go back.

The U. N. remembered that many Russians taken prisoner by the Germans in World War II committed suicide rather than be returned to Russia after the war.

The U. N. polled its prisoners and reported that only 70,000 out of the 173,000 would go back willingly. The U. N. said it would not force the rest to return.

This was a shocking blow to Communist prestige in Asia and every-

Fire Guts Building at Batesville

Batesville, May 8 (AP) — A fire that broke out shortly before one o'clock this morning destroyed two buildings in the business district here and routed some 50 guests from their beds in the Marvin Hotel.

Firemen fought the blaze for an hour and 40 minutes before bringing it under control and preventing it from spreading to the 2-story hotel. However, they could not save Leonard's Ice Cream Parlor and W. F. McFadden's Furniture Store.

There was no overall estimate of damage, but McFadden estimated his loss at $8,000.

Five apartments over the two establishments also were destroyed, but the inhabitants escaped unhurt.

A fire wall separated the ice cream parlor from the hotel and helped prevent spread of the flames. Four hotel rooms adjacent to the fire wall were damaged badly by water.

Origin of the blaze was unknown.

Dulles Sees Eisenhower as Winner

Shannon, Ireland, May 8 (AP) — John Foster Dulles predicted today that Gen. Eisenhower will be elected the next President of the United States but said he himself doesn't count on being secretary of state.

He indicated, however, he considers himself the "obvious" man for the job.

The Republican party foreign affairs expert was interviewed here as he flew home after week-end conferences with the general in Paris. He had refused there to say whether he would support Eisenhower's candidacy.

Nor did he at the airport here come out flatly for the general, but said, "There seems no doubt that Gen. Eisenhower will be elected."

"But when it comes to secretary of state," he said, "there are often factors which decide against the most obvious person. Sometimes the post has to be filled by one who will form a bridge between the President and certain political sections."

"I would be the last to say I am a certainty for the post of secretary of state."

Murder Charge Filed at P. B.

Pine Bluff, May 8 (AP) — A charge of second degree murder has been filed against Jefferson County Farmer Clarence Reynolds in the death of Robert Goodnight.

Goodnight, 22, died last Friday at his home near here from a head injury suffered in a fight Thursday night, said Coroner Dr. E. Frank Reed.

Reynolds was released on $2,500 bond.

where. They refused to accept the U. N. position on prisoners. Yesterday the talks had reached their most critical point in 10 months.

If the talks broke off now and full war was resumed, this country was in a good position to appeal to world opinion to blame the Communists.

This was done yesterday by President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and Deputy Defense Secretary William C. Foster in a series of statements.

The President summed it up. He said an armistice would not be brought at the price of 103,000 prisoners who didn't want to return to Communist control where they might be killed.

South Having Summer Already

By The Associated Press
It was never summer-like weather for most of the Southern half of the country today but it was cold, cloudy and rainy in the Northern areas.

Light rain fell in parts of New England, the Western Great Lakes region and in South Dakota and Kansas, westward across the Central Rocky Mountains to the Oregon Coast.

It was a little cooler in the extreme Southwest section of the country but no cooling was reported in other Southern areas. It was a hot 104 at Presidio, Tex., yesterday.

Practical Nurses Plan Assessments

Little Rock, May 7 (UP) — A plan to assess members of the Arkansas State Practical Nurses Association 71 a year was to be taken up by the group at its fifth annual convention here.

The plan is embodied in a resolution which was approved yesterday by the executive board of the association. The assessment would be in addition to the annual $5 dues and would go to the National Federation of Licensed Practical Nurses, Inc. The resolution also would make membership in the national organization mandatory for Arkansas practical nurses. About 400 delegates are in Little Rock for the convention. A banquet is scheduled for tonight with addresses by Dr. S. A. Drennon, of Stuttgart, president of the Arkansas Medical Society; Dr. Fred W. Harris of Little Rock, president of the Arkansas Heart Association; Dr. Earl Hunt of Clarksville, and Dr. Hayden C. Nicholson, dean of the University of Arkansas medical school.
